Introducing the Volume Side Table, a new perspective on contemporary design.

The new Volume Side Table offers a unique blend of modern aesthetics, durability and functionality. Crafted from aluminium, it boasts a sleek appearance, polished to create a distinctive rough finish with a unique sheen that adds character and personality to any living space.

Protected with lacquer, the Volume Side Table retains its pristine appearance with minimal effort and is ensured durability and weather resistance, making it suitable for both indoor and outdoor use. The incorporation of curved lines to offset straight lines creates a perfect balance of form, adding warmth and approachability to the cool, hard metal surface.

The Volume Side Table launches online and at Audo Copenhagen retailers on 28. February 2024.

About the Designer

Ted Synnott has established a noteworthy reputation as an industrial designer and furniture maker. His work is a testament to his profound appreciation for craftsmanship and his design ethos is anchored in the belief that good design should be simple, intuitive and inherently useful, always infused with an element of surprise. From his base in Auckland, New Zealand, he draws inspiration from the world at large, continually striving to enhance his designs through careful attention to the finer details. Characterised by straight lines and artistic curves, the resulting forms are not merely functional; they transcend utility to become sculptural pieces that exude both warmth and a sense of presence. Ted is the designer of the Volume Side Table, a multifunctional piece open to interpretation.
